Year 2012

The Civic Association Villa Vallila exists already for 16 years – it runs a community house and creates projects for support of people with a health or social handicap.

The association offers social services in a community house for 11 years.

The original project and principal idea, which has given a direction to our work and which is still developing, is to create and support a community in a community house in harmony with the association mission. We have gained valuable experience and have undergone a difficult evolution connected to quest and discovering of a right way of providing of social services.

We are convinced that an offer of a quality social service has to be associated with humane acceptance and with a possibility to cure people in need through an accepting community: in our case, acceptance in a community of inhabitants and assistants in the community house Villa Vallila.

If the social work is understood in this way in a vital community, one can discover and develop hidden gifts of sometimes completely forgotten people. And these individuals then can enrich others around them by their gifts.

Eva Klípová – chairwoman of the Civic Association Villa Vallila

Mission of the organization

- ◆ enable people with a health handicap live a full life in common conditions of a human community and to run for this purpose a community house in Červený Újezd near Votice

Inhabitants of the Community House

Clients of the protected living service – so-called Viláci, the term has become common during the years for the inhabitants of the Villa – live in the long term in the community house and in nearby efficiency apartments. Some of them have a domicile there.

Viláci try to live common lives like others and they are supported in their effort. Each of them is involved in a work program, some have standard employment. We still seek new employment opportunities. All of them participate according to their abilities and will on household operation (cleaning of the rooms and shared spaces, washing, ironing, cooking etc.).

They are led to build up working habits. Most of them work in a bakery where they bake cookies for dogs (suitable but not very profitable work) or they are involved in therapeutic working programs – care for farm animals, work in our vegetable garden or greenhouse, cleaning of the surroundings, garden maintenance, preparation of fuel for winter. Concurrently a healthy regime and lifestyle is maintained and acquired.

Social skills are developed through the community formation; the community members experience their common troubles and joys, learn mutual help, solve the problems and respond to various adversities and failures. Some of them have to get over basic adversities as their mental and physical injuries are deep and make difficult to live contentedly and joyfully. Leisure activities – football, florball, exercise, body building, theatre, music, games etc. represent a positive offer for them.

Regular community sessions (once in a week) led by assistants are a part of the community life. The inhabitants have a possibility to tell others their opinions, learn to listen to others and seek solutions for the common or personal problems, find their abilities and appreciate each other.

Assistants accompany the clients during their everyday activities, support their working abilities, and serve as an example in the lifestyle and social behavior. They are fully involved in the community life – take part in parties and events also after working hours.

They support clients in healthcare, hygiene, care for their living space, help them keep the household and cook. They also help to arrange their affairs. The assistants are in daily contact with clients, guide them and help them in their problems. They are responsible for funds of the house for alimentation. They actively seek and offer therapeutic programs and secure the house atmosphere.

Clients of the respite services are usually young people, often with a serious health handicap. They come to the Villa mainly for relaxation programs. We try to integrate them into the community and involve them into regular activities and therapeutic programs. They bring to the community their own life stories and the inhabitants of the Villa can share their destiny. Mutual sharing, new impulses and involvement in daily activities may be very enriching.

Main principles of the work in the community house:

- ◆ individual approach
- ◆ respect to everyone, who comes to the Villa or lives there
- ◆ mutual tolerance, but also an accent on keeping common principles and rules of coexistence (keeping lifestyle and proper daily regime)
- ◆ involvement in working therapeutic programs
- ◆ support of personal responsibility for one's own life
- ◆ strengthening of the will to overcome personal problems

Regular meetings:

- ◆ community sessions of clients and assistants, once in a week
- ◆ team consultations of the Villa's employees, once in a month
